

Clothing and other personal items that are required to be washed aren't safe in the washing rooms. People remove your clothes and other things to begin washing their items.